

Writing IEPs for Educational Benefit

RIVERSIDE COUNTY SELPA
ACCESS · LEADERSHIP · EQUITY

From Learning to Implementation

Develop the knowledge, skills, and confidence to create outcome-driven IEPs that support meaningful student progress.

This three-part learning series combines professional learning, guided application, virtual coaching, and project-based collaboration to help participants move beyond compliance and strengthen their IEP practices.

Series Includes:

- Session 1: In-person learning focused on educational benefit and outcome-driven IEP development
- Session 2: Virtual coaching to reflect, problem-solve, and receive implementation support
- Session 3: In-person, project-based learning to refine practice through collaboration and continuous improvement

Participants will leave with practical tools, actionable strategies, and a stronger framework for developing IEPs that improve student outcomes.
